C. OF C. SECRETARY MAKES REPLY TO SEVERAL RUMORS

Official Statement Is Made in Answer to Report As to Organization Action

Denial of several reports in circulation is made by James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, in the following communication:

Editor The Evening News—Owing to some current street reports concerning the actions of the Chamber of Commerce regarding several matters affecting the Chamber, will you permit us to make a statement of facts concerning these reports through the columns of your spiendid paper to the members of the Chamber of Commerce and the public generally.

We seldom become exercised over street corner gossip, but, as one of the matters we shall mention refers to cash expenditures of the members' money, we feel it our duty to issue this statement:

First—Reports have reached us that the Chamber of Commerce had purchased at $1975 a piano. In fact, one of our daily papers so stated. In reply to this, will say there was a piano purchased, a Knabe Grand piano, purchased through the Barnes-Shuck Music company, the price of which was $1975, not purchased by the Chamber of Commerce, but by the Citizens' Building company for any one desiring to rent space in this splendid building, and the Chamber of Commerce will have the use of this instrument, but they have not one penny invested in it of the members' money. It is NOT the property of the Chamber of Commerce.

Restaurant Business

Second—We have had various complaints that the Chamber of Commerce was entering the restaurant business by renting the store room, 150 South Brand boulevard, beneath the rooms occupied by the Chamber of Commerce to a company to start a restaurant, and several of our members in the restaurant business have been very much exercised

Martha Jones, Age 10 Years, Writes This Clever Verse

This little original verse was written by Martha Jones, age 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Jones of 322 East Dryden street. Martha has written little verses from the time she began to read.

I am very queer,
Yes, queer indeed,
Upon the air,
Do I feed.
I go through water,
Yet never get wet,
I go through fire,
And never burn.

And in some places,
I twist and turn,
To this puzzle,
There is a key,
But you will never guess,
What I may be.
(Answer, a shadow.)

HAPPY HOLIDAY IS ASSURED TO MANY BY LOCAL ELKS

Stanley S. Frentz and Helpers Prepare Christmas Cheer for Numerous People

Hungry hearts and empty stomachs, tried spirits and tired bodies, poorly clad children and barren cupboards—imagine if you can such conditions in happy Glendale today.

Boasted prosperity finds its misery if it looks behind the curtains of scores of homes in this vicinity. Sickness, misfortune, unemployment are contributing causes. And it has been the pleasure and privilege of Stanley S. Frentz and his many assistants, members of Glendale lodge No. 1289, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, to investigate just such cases in and near the San Fernando Valley.

There are 140 needy families, totaling about 400 men, women and children, who are going to enjoy roast chicken and all the "trimmings" of Christmas dinner this coming Sunday. And everyone of them will receive such assistance as seems necessary at this time of the year.

Toys, Clothes, Food Ready

A hat for little Harry, a cress for Dotty, toys for the tots, many things for mama and perhaps for papa, too, are gathered in a big room in the basement of the Elks' clubhouse here tonight ready for distribution Christmas Eve. Included in the list of necessities are comfortable blankets, good mattresses, neat rugs, sacks of flour, canned goods, potatoes, sugar, sweaters, overcoats, candies and what not.

For the meal a whole chicken (two in some instances), mince pie and bread are provided. Sounds satisfying, doesn't it. You can bet your bottom dollar, Brother Bills, that it will taste like a millionaire's banquet in every home.

This Man Is Santa Claus

Mr. Frentz, who has been chairman of the relief committee of the local lodge for the past five years, has during that time become known as "Mister Santa Claus" to scores of boys and girls from Glendale to Bou-

C., Dec. 23.—The administration is in favor of a definite understanding between the United States and the Pan-American governments for concerted action with regard to the recognition of New Latin-American governments created through revolutions, it was indicated at the White House. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Return From Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Joseph, who returned Tuesday night from a three months' trip to Europe, are now spending a few days at the Gray Hotel before getting relocated in their home, 317 West Lexington Drive.

On account of a serious illness, sustained by Mrs. Joseph while in France, their tour of "the continent" was somewhat curtailed and they did not visit Germany or any of the points on the Mediterranean.

Although Mr. Joseph was pleased to visit many relatives in England, he was not much impressed with London. The large number of horses still seen on the streets surprised him and automobiles did not seem so prominent. After American cities, the largest city in the world seemed rather old-fashioned.

Belgium impressed Mrs. Joseph the most of the countries visited. She was particularly attracted by the quaint dwellings there.

The trip across "the pond" was made from Quebec by the Empress of France while the return voyage was booked upon the Olympic which carried a large number of notables.

Several family heirlooms were brought back by Mr. Joseph. Among them is a large silver English teapot and serving tray, both of which have been in the family for several generations.

Shopping in Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph could not help commenting upon the artistic workmanship and cheapness of French toys. They brought as many as possible back with them as Christmas presents for their grandchildren, Dorothy and "Teddy" Conrad.

Genevieve Mulligan Given Birthday Party

UNCLE SAM ASSISTS SANTA CLAUS AND POSTAL CLERKS

Government Co-Operates With Result Recent Rainstorm Fails to Halt Mails

Uncle Sam, co-operating with Santa Claus, has refused to be baffled by the recent rain storm according to Superintendent George Hallett, at present in charge of the local postoffice.

The Pacific Electric line being out of commission at the Ivanhoe bridge, parcel post is now being brought to Glendale in auto trucks direct from Los Angeles. These trucks hold eighty to 100 sacks and are making two or more round trips a day depending upon the quantity of mail on hand. Over the top of the sacks is spread a tarpaulin to protect them from the rain. Upon this is perched a marine with a rifle across his knees ready to do battle with possible hold-up desperadoes.

Big Increase Reported

"There is a great increase in the quantity of mail this season over last year," remarked Mr. Hallett. "This increase is a good 50 per cent, both incoming and outgoing. But with our increased space we have been able to handle it without any trouble.

"We haven't gotten stuck yet and don't expect to. We haven't held any mail over night at all and have been getting each day's mail out the same day that it has been received. Yes, it has been necessary for the 'boys' to work long hours. They have been putting in a lot of overtime—ten, eleven and twelve hours a day.

"Rain has delayed the carriers considerably because their delivery machines have 'gone bad' quite a bit. But, despite this handicap, the mail has gone out on time.

Lack of Addresses

"Our only trouble so far has been unaddressed mail; like a package directed to 'John Jones, Glendale,' with no street address. Of course, we have a regular directory service, but looking up addresses means delay."

Mr. Hallett stated that four windows in the lobby of the post office had been kept open until the clerks had been needed to take care of the mail piling up. He said that the biggest rush has been coming in from 4 to 6 in the afternoon.

In addition to the regular force of thirty-one men the local post office is now employing fourteen additional carriers and four additional clerks. Besides the truck used daily six auxiliary trucks are now in service.

REVISION OF VERSAILLES TREATY MAY BE AT ISSUE

LONDON, Dec. 23.—Revision of the treaty of Versailles will become a political issue if a general election is held in London. The laborities have adopted for the election in February or March, a platform which will propose: 1—That the government change its foreign policy, especially in respect to Russia and central Europe; 2—That commercial trading be opened with Russia; 3—That all war debts be cancelled.

RUSSIA AND HALF DOZEN OTHER NATIONS MAY BATTLE

RIGA, Dec. 23.—War clouds are again gathering in eastern Europe. There is a possibility that Russia may become embroiled with half a dozen nations as a result of the dispute between Moscow and Finland over Karelia. Russia accuses the Finns of seizing Russian territory and threatening the occupation of the Murmansk railway. Finland has appealed to the league of nations. Russia has already announced that she regards Finland's appeal to the league as a hostile act. The premier of Latvia says that Finland appealed to the league in the interests of peace and has no desire to go to war. M. Hanetzky, the Soviet ambassador, will leave Riga for Moscow late today to discuss the Karelian situation with Georg Tchitcherin, commissioner of foreign affairs. Whether or not Russia goes to war will be decided by the all-Russian congress of Soviets scheduled to open its session in Moscow today. If Russia goes to war it is most probable Finland will be supported by Poland, Roumania, some of the Baltic states and other powers fronting the Russian border. The council of the league of nations will meet at Geneva early in January.

PROPOSE DRIVE FOR RE-ORGANIZATION OF BOY SCOUTS

R. H. Condie of Long Beach Is Assisting Local Council in Arranging Details

R. H. Condie of Long Beach is assisting the local council, Boy Scouts of America, to complete the organization of a first class council in this vicinity which will have jurisdiction over troops in Glendale, Burbank and Eagle Rock. A drive will be staged the first of the year with the aid of the Chambers of Commerce, to raise $4,500 for conducting the year's work.

Mr. Condie met with members of the committee on organization last night in The Glendale Evening News office to fill out the applications for the charter. A. T. Cowan presided and he states that a report will be made to the council at the earliest possible date with recommendations for the employment of an executive.

Wide Experience

Mr. Condie is assisting C. H. Miller, executive officer of Region No. 12, Boy Scouts of America, which comprises the states of California, Utah, Arizona and Nevada. He formerly was a field executive in District No. 5 and has had a wide experience in organizing councils which will prove of great value to the local Scout officials.

Street Car Service Normal Again, Report

With car service again normal and flood waters in the Los Angeles river receding so that workmen can repair bridges, the storm damage of the past week is being cleared away. However, the prospect of more rain is dampening the Christmas spirit and many motor trips have been definitely abandoned on account of almost impassable roads.

Thousands of telephones that were put out of service were being reconnected. Officials of the Los Angeles flood control office stated the Devil's Gate dam near Pasadena is in no danger. The huge lake of flood water will be partially drained next week.

DR. H. R. HARROWER MAKES GIFTS TO HIS EMPLOYES

Total of $1785 Distributed in Gold; Very Pleasing Program Is Featured

Specially prepared capsules were distributed last night by Dr. Henry R. Harrower to each member of his laboratory family following the Christmas program.

Each was guaranteed to improve the financial condition of the recipient and contained a number of gold pieces based upon the amount of salary and length of service. Ten dollars was the smallest bonus. This sum was received by one employe who had only been with the institution a month. Several of the amounts ranged around $50. A total of $1785 in coin was distributed.

Immediately following the recitation of "The Night Before Christmas" by Mrs. Henry Harrower, the lights were extinguished suddenly, the Christmas tree was illuminated, there was a jingling of bells, a stamping of feet and James Howarth, disguised as Santa Claus, ran in with a whoop. He was assisted in distributing the presents by Miss Velda Adams, Miss Ruth Lower and Miss Grace Tower. Both Dr. Harrower and James Howarth were given alligator bags and C. L. Cyphers was given an automobile rug for his new Hupmobile.

Guest of Honor

Dr. George Thomason of the White Memorial Hospital, Boyle Heights, was a guest of honor. He is one of the directors of the Harrower Foundation to aid worthy medical students and mentioned its work briefly. Dr. Harrower also spoke upon this subject and members of the laboratory family pledged it their support.

The playing of "Silent Night" upon the new Actuelle was much enjoyed. Punch and wafers were served for refreshments.

Robert Tower Is Home for Holiday Season

He was accompanied on the automobile trip to Southern California by Clarence Spaulding, also of Glendale, Clarence Newton and A. W. Bontemps of Los Angeles and Wells Cook of San Diego. The trip of over 500 miles through rain and slush and over slippery roads was made by their Ford without mishap and the only stoppages were for food for the car and its occupants.

ZONING ORDINANCE MAY BE PASSED NEXT TUESDAY

City Council About Ready to Take Final Action Upon Important Measure.

After months of discussion the city zoning ordinance is coming before the council next Tuesday night, December 27, probably for passage! It is a moot subject with subdividers and builders which has reached boiling point.

At the suggestion of Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson, an amendment is to be made to the ordinance as presented, which will provide that bungalow courts, apartment buildings or tenements may be built anywhere property restrictions permit, with the exception of such instances where 60 per cent of the property owners in the vicinity petition to the council to prevent such construction.

Maps Show Lines

It is expected that with this qualification the zoning ordinance will meet with the approval of the majority of residents and changes may be made from time to time as conditions warrant. In the wording of the ordinance it is impossible to learn the confines of the business and industrial districts, but maps are on file at the city hall for those interested.

The council last night passed the ordinance which orders observance of the building line, thus prohibiting bungalow courts and apartment houses from being erected too close to the property line.

The building ordinance, of special interest to contractors and builders, is being considered for passage and City Manager W. H. Reeves was last night instructed to call a meeting of contractors and builders for a discussion of the proposed provisions.

The official minutes of the city council appear elsewhere in this issue of The Evening News.

New Electric Heater Is Put Upon Market

A new electric heater is on the market, according to C. W. Hamman, manager of the F. A. Clarke store, 310 East Broadway. Instead of having one large copper reflector, the new device has two smaller ones mounted side by side and connected with the frame by swivels so that they may be moved independently of each other. Mr. Hamman says that this arrangement enables the heat to be directed upon different parts of the room simultaneously so that two people can get the benefit of the heater at once.

A wise man is satisfied to appear great in the eyes of his wife and children.

quet Canyon. Besides taking charge of the Elks' charity work he has been associated with D. F. McLaughlin of Los Angeles, who is assistant superintendent of County Charities, Outdoor Relief Division.

Although the relief and charity activities of the order are not made public by those in charge, it may be conservatively estimated that several thousand dollars' worth of essentials will be distributed this holiday season. The large crates, which have been filled to the brim, will be delivered by means of automobiles and trucks and it is the plan of the committee to have delivered the last "basket" before Christmas Eve.

The several hundred packages are to be delivered to residents in Glendale, Eagle Rock, Burbank, Montrose, La Crescenta, La Canada, Tujunga, Sunland, Lankershim, Van Nuys, San Fernando, Palmdale, Lancaster, Del Sur, Willow Springs, Little Rock, Simi, Somis and Owensmouth.

Mrs. Marie T. Hutchings, who is also associated with Mr. McLaughlin in the Los Angeles county charity work, has been assisting Mr. Frentz in arranging the plans during this week. Mrs. Hutchings is well known in relief work in Southern California.

Workers for Lukens Site Hold Meeting, Outline Campaign

The Glendale Welfare Association met last night at the Broadway school with J. C. Sherer in the chair.

An enthusiastic group of workers were on hand who stated that it would be "no less than a calamity" to the interests of the High School District if the voters, next Thursday should fail to carry the bonds and and through any lack of information, should select the wrong high school site. They asserted that, if all voters were informed upon the many superior advantages of the Luken's tract, the right decision would be made.

Various suggestions were made and districts mapped out for further work. Window cards, compact informational cards, and other means of publicity were reported by the committee, consisting of W. D. Root, Mrs. M. L. Tight and C. M. Pomeroy. The rain this week has interferred with work but the campaign from now on will be waged actively.

A workers' meeting will be held next Tuesday night at the Broadway school to consider final plans.

Jury Will Decide If Auto Park Camp Is Being Operated

Is F. E. Clenin operating an automobile parking camp at 920 East Palmer avenue?

That's what a jury is trying to find out this afternoon in Judge F. H. Lowe's court in the city hall.

W. P. Reynolds, who lives in the neighborhood of the so-called "nuisance," has sworn out a warrant charging that Mr Clenin is operating an auto park despite the city council's prohibition November 25. Attorney Frank Snyder is representing the defense. About twenty-five witnesses will be called before the case concludes.

Monte Vista Valley Roads Hurt by Storm

Reports from a county road department employe who yesterday made a survey of storm damage in this vicinity would indicate that considerable work is to be done on the Monte Vista valley thoroughfares. The state highway is in good shape except where the Tujunga river wash blocks the ford.

It is reported that the approaches to the Vine street bridge, leading from San Fernando Road into Griffith park, are washed away. Several months will be required in repairing the structure across Los Angeles river on Los Feliz Road, but a detour is made by way of Ivanhoe and Glendale boulevard.

C. OF C. SECRETARY MAKES REPLY TO SEVERAL RUMORS

because of this report. The Chamber of Commerce is a tenant in the Citizen's Building Company's building, paying their rent just the same as any other tenant and has absolutely nothing to do with the Citizens' building as to whom it shall be rented, or for what purpose. The Chamber of Commerce has no financial interest in this building or voice in its management. The Chamber of Commerce has no restaurant or restaurant equipment or any other commercial occupation or interest. Our business is to build Glendale if the people will be big enough and broad enough to permit us to do so.

Separate Organization

The Citizen's Building company is a distinct and separate organization from the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in organizing the Citizens' Building company, assembling capital to make it possible to erect the splendid building they have which was so needed in this city, but, as before stated, the relations are entirely independent and the Chamber of Commerce is in no way responsible for the acts of the Citizens' Building company.

Third—We were interviewed yesterday by a committee accusing us of taking part in the location of the postoffice. The Chamber of Commerce assisted in every way in obtaining an independent postoffice for Glendale and it was absolutely through the Chamber of Commerce that this achievement was obtained. We do not, and never have, nor do we intend to take any part, directly or indirectly, as an organization in the location of the postoffice or high school. As before stated, we worked to obtain the postoffice, but the selection of a postmaster and location must and will be left to the people at large, the same as to the high school. We stand squarely behind the school board in the bond issue and are using every honorable means to carry the high school bonds, but the location is up to the individuals.

The Chamber of Commerce is the community center in which the entire community revolves—the lungs through which the community breathes—striving to secure industries, new people to locate here, better community spirit, better civic spirit and civic upbuilding. Its entire object is constructive and not destructive.

JAMES M. RHOADES.
Secretary,
Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

HIGH SCHOOL PLANT WILL NOT BE PUT ON SCRAP HEAP

Present Buildings to Be Used for Other Purposes if the Bonds Are Carried

Editor The Evening News—It has been suggested that a few citizens on December 29 may vote "No" on the high school bonds thinking that if the present bond issue fails the present location in some way may be retained. Such voters may have forgotten that twice in 1920 bond issues for enlarging the present site of six acres were decisively defeated. They should not forget that the very issue of retaining the present site was put up to the voters and the citizens voted to change. Hence the only possible way of making any progress is to vote for either the Luken's or the Grey site and to vote "Yes" on the bonds.

But what of the present plant when it is outgrown and abandoned? Shall it be scrapped like an obsolete battleship. Not at all. In rapidly-growing Glendale such a substantial set of permanent buildings could in later years as easily be used as a well-equipped intermediate school as could the present intermediate be used as a grammar school.

A little actual history from neighboring cities may prove of interest on this point. Pasadena some years ago moved her high school to the eastern extreme of the city on Colorado boulevard, where a fine set of buildings was erected on a commodious site. The old plant in the center of town is now used as the John Muir Intermediate.

Not in Scrap Heap

In 1917 Los Angeles High school, having reached an enrollment somewhat under 2000, abandoned the fifteen-acre location above the old plaze for a twenty-one acre tract on the edge of the city where now, with an enrollment of about 3000, the school is attempting to buy more adjoining land.

The old buildings above the plaza were not scrapped in 1917. One of the numerous intermediate schools of Los Angeles, the Central Intermediate, now occupies the plant with an enrollment at present of 1150. Some of the buildings are rather antiquated, but last June the auditor valued the plant at abort $400,000 (land $176,914, buildings $229,862).

Will Not Be Wasted

By the way, the Los Angeles School district is now in process of selling its property on Mercantile Place for about $1,000,000. The old Spring street school was once located there and the Los Angeles High school used the property before it was located on the old site above the plaza.

Glendale, then, can logically conclude that the present high school plant will not be wasted. Our growth is too rapid to tolerate it. Common business sense also should spur us on to acquire the highly-desirable Luken's tract of twenty-one acres while the price is reasonable and before the opportunity is lost through subdivision.

The slogan for December 29 should be "YES for the bonds and make sure the logical Luken's site!"

Sincerely yours,
W. D. ROOT,
MRS. M. L. TIGHT,
C. M. POMEROY,
Glendale Welfare Association Committee.

BRITISH VIEWS ON SUBMARINES ARE NOW AT ISSUE

Definite Answer Is Required to Question Raised at the Washington Parley

By WILSON HARRIS,
Diplomatic Correspondent of the London Daily News
Copyright, 1921, International News Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 23.—The statement of the British case on the submarines has put a very interesting problem before the conference, much more interesting than the plain issue of whether the submarine should or should not be abolished.

At this conference for the first time the distinction between offensive and defensive instruments of war has been clearly and consistently emphasized. Secretary Hughes has said again and again in different language that what he and the American delegation stand for is the proposition that all preparation for offensive naval warfare shall end now.

To that proposition every country represented at Washington has given assent. The French in particular have emphasized the fact, M. Briand in his cable from London to Mr. Hughes having stated explicitly that France readily accepted the American point of view with regard to capital ships but reserved full freedom of action on what he described as the defensive units, such as light crusers, destroyers and submarines.

Needs Definite Answer

It follows that if the British or anyone else can persuade the conference that the submarine is not a defensive but an offensive weapon everyone will be committed to its abolition, for it is common ground that "all preparation for offensive naval warfare shall end now."

And that is a perfectly concrete question admitting of a definite answer, which is more than can be said of a case based on broad humanitarian considerations, important though humanitarianism is.

There is the whole experience of the last war to draw on and that experience, if the British experts are to be trusted, points all one way.

Unfortunately the thing is not quite as simple as it seems. There is a good deal of grey between the white and black. The submarine, that is to say, though it is predominantly an offensive weapon, can no doubt in certain circumstances be used for defense and what the committee has to decide is whether it is so predominantly offensive that it ought to be ruled out on that ground.

Nation-Wide Probe of Profiteering by Retail Merchants

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 23.—Attorney General Daugherty today inaugurated a country-wide investigation of profiteering among retail dealers handling foods, clothing and fuel.

Daugherty instructed Wm. J. Burns, head of the bureau of investigation, to begin at once through agencies in all parts of the country a thorough study of the retail price situation. The attorney general asked for reports as soon as possible to be used as a basis for future action.

Schedules for retail prices, Daugherty announced, are to be prepared showing what the consumer is compelled to pay for foodstuffs, including groceries and meats, as well as clothing and fuel.

The department of justice will seek evidence which can be used to break up existing unlawful combinations, maintained for the primary purpose of controlling territory in distribution of necessities and of fixing prices in such a manner as to destroy competition, Daugherty explained.

"The public has been robbed long enough in an organized way," said Daugherty. "The profits now made by grocers and other retailers in articles most needed by the public are unconscionable. There is no justification for the prices now charged on a wide range of foods and housewives' necessities.

COLUMBIA STUDENT 41 YEARS, TAKES MANY DEGREES

'Undergraduate' Now in His Sixties Must Continue to Get Annuity, Is Rumor

By LEO T. HEATLEY.
Written for International News Service

NEW YORK — William Cullen Bryant Kemp, now in his forty-first undergraduate year at Columbia University, will be a rah-rah boy for the rest of his life. He cavorted on the Columbia campus with Nicholas Murray Butler back in 1880. Dr. Butler is now President of Columbia and has achieved various kinds of fame, while Kemp is still a student, a man in the sixties, with iron-gray hair, rather portly and with very snappy eyes. Also, he wears a cane.

Kemp's real reason for sticking to Columbia is a dark and deep secret that has never been penetrated by his most intimate acquaintances and friends at the college. All sorts of stories have developed among his classmates as to what keeps him grinding out at his studies all these years, with no hope of relief. Most boys at college go through their four years acquiring learning with always the same aim in view—to get it over with.

Gets All the Degrees

But it is different with Kemp. He doesn't look upon his college course as a matter of drudgery. He will not be interviewed or photographed, but his unusual academic career is familiar to the students of Columbia. Kemp, with his poetic name, has acquired all the degrees that can be conferred—A.B., A. M.,LL. B,, Ph.D., D.D., LL.D., M. E., C. E., M. D., D. D: S. and a few others His greatest degree, however, was conferred by his fellow students—that of P. S., meaning Perpetual Student.

Kemp has not yet tackled such subjects as archaeology, paleontology, ornithology, anthropology and a few other "ologies." But give him time.

Among the many stories circulated about Kemp is that he was sentenced for life to be a student of Columbia. The students say this sentence was imposed upon him in his freshman year because he did not study hard enough. He was a freshman at the college in 1880. College gossip says that this man had a relative who was worried over his lack of application to his studies and devised a unique method of making him learn. To this end he left an annuity of $2,500 to William, providing he could only draw this sum by remaining a registered and chartered student of the university. If ever he left the classic seat of learning he could wave goodby to the annuity.

Another version of the will left by this fond relative is that he left the money to Kemp through fear William would beat it away from his studies at the college. But he hasn't tried to beat it yet, and he has plugged along for forty-one years as an enrolled student. He is still enrolled in the Registrar's office as a student.

Forbidden to Marry?

The rumors of the campus go on to say that another clause of this strange will forbids Kemp to marry. It also says he must make the college, or a part of the college, his dormitory. For he has never married. He has been living for a number of years in Livingston Hall, off South Field, where his lamp burns brightly every night.

Other students may worry for fear they will flunk and fail to get honorable mention, but Kemp constantly fears that he will pass and be turned out into the cold, cruel world without his annuity. And, as everyone knows, there are few things in this old world more helpless or more dependent upon public charity and beneficence than a college boy sent out into the well-known world without an annuity.

Record Calendars for Poultrymen to Prove Great Help

A recent publication contains the following sentence: "The farmer must receive a reward commensurate with his efforts and responsibility." No one will deny the truth of this statement. The problem is to find out just what reward the farmer or produrer is rereiving for his work. The United States Department of Agriculture has for years been endeavoring to help the producer keep such records as will show what it costs him to produce. Various state agricultural colleges are uniting with the Department of Agriculture in this work. This is especially true in this state.

The Poultrymen's Co-Operative Milling association of 1516 Industrial street, Los Angeles, is distributing to poultry raisers a very attractive and useful calendar which has been designed to remedy a defect in so many of the poultrymen's book-keeping systems. It provides a simple daily record which gives enough information to enable the producer to keep track of his business and enable him to prepare reports showing whether his business is profitable or otherwise. Each monthly record is on a separate sheet and at the close of the month is filed away for safe keeping by a very ingenious device so that at the end of the year the whole yearly record is safely preserved. For being so simple, this whole plan is the most complete of its kind we have ever seen and should be very useful and helpful to the poultrymen.

As long as the present supply lasts your local feed dealer who handles PCA products will furnish these record calendars without charge to those owning a flock of hens.

DR. H. R. HARROWER STATES VIEWS ON PROPOSED SITES

Gives Several Reasons Why He Is Opposed to Choice of the Grey Property

Editor The Evening News—In Wednesday night's News there appeared an article by A. W. Dorsey indorsing the Grey site for the High School, and it seems to me a good time to make a statement regarding my views in the matter. Heretofore I have had nothing to say at any meeting or in any of the papers and I think it is time that my voice should be heard.

Frankly, I do not admire Mr. Dorsey's judgment and I do not agree with his reasoning. The Grey site is not centrally located. A few hundred yards to the west we come to tht edge of Glendale and beyond that there is practically no opportunity for development, because hundreds of acres are occupied by the Los Angeles river bed, Griffith park and territory which is not in Glendale and never can be annexed to Glendale. Mr. Dorsey refers to "one of the very much overworked objections to the Grey site"—its proximity to the wash, and it was quite an interesting coincidence that right next to his article appeared a news item based upon the recently stated attitude of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce with the suggestive title "Say Verdugo Wash Is Endangering City's Future", and further down in the article, in order to emphasize the importance of doing something even more comprehensive than has been done heretofore, the Chamber of Commerce committee says "the city is sharing its burden in the county-wide flood control plans, and something more tangible than the present steel fencing is sought. This, it was said, soon will rust and be washed away." My personal opinion is that the Grey site is much too near the wash to be ideal for a high school site.

Transportation Question

Then Mr. Dorsey refers to transportation and surely none can deny that the transportation facilities, present or future, of the Doran street site could not be any better than they are at present for the East Broadway site. Mr. Dorsey refers to the bus line, but forgets that a bus full of students is a very negligible fraction of the high school attendants and also he forgets that the Burbank line is outside of the regular 6-cent fare area, three-quarters of a mile to the north and across a wash which at the present moment is a raging torrent.

The Grey site is very much more expensive than the Luken's site. I have it on the authority of the city engineer that $12,500 will be necessary to put in the street work surrounding this site and that $4-100 of an acre will have to be taken from the already comparatively small area. On the other hand, the important part of the street work at the Luken's site has been completed long ago at a cost of many thousand dollars and less than $5,000 will be necessary to put in all the sidewalks and other improvements that the city may deem necessary.

Objects to Residence Site

I understand that Mr. Grey reserved three-quarters of an acre on the southwest corner of this site for his own residence, and, while it may be a very attractive residence to him. I do not think it is a beautiful addition to any high school plot, and, unless Mr. Grey should move his house away, I would not be in favor of the site even if it could be removed to the other side of the city. It is not proper that a private residence should occupy a school quadrangle and we all have repeated many times how unsatisfactory it was to have the Masonic Temple and Mattison B. Jones' house on what ought to have been the high school square at present.

I am sorry to say that my impression of the present campaign is that it is a real estate deal. Mr. Grey is a real estate man and he has land to sell. I do not know whether he has more land than the twenty acres which he is offering as a high school site at a very generous price, but it is very clear that the "gift" of the park to the city was actuated by a desire to develop his territory and sell his property.

By the way, in one of the newspaper articles emphasizing the "advantages" of the Grey site, attention was called to the fact that the city of Glendale "selected" the eight or nine acres for the city park. This is altogether untrue. The city did nothing of the kind and the selection of this land was left to its owner. He made a proposition to the city and the city fathers discussed it and, by the niggardly way the majority of the citizens of Glendale repeatedly have handled the pressing park situation, were glad enough to take the site, wash or no wash, remote or not remote, in order to have any kind of a park. Certain it is true that the City of Glendale did not pick out the present Patterson avenue park as a suitable location for a city playground.

Close to Railroad

The proximity of the Grey site to the main line of the Southern Pacific railway will be a detriment if I am not mistaken. Do not forget that this line carries all the heavy freight traffic, not merely on the coast route but on the valley route, as well as all the trains going north by both of these routes. The noise of the traffic will certainly be a detriment just as will be the noise of the tremendously heavy road traffic over the long bridge over the wash at San Fernando Road and Doran street, only a few hundred yards to the west.

Mr. Dorsey refers to the possibility that, if the Luken's site should be selected by the voters, it would be an advantage to Eagle Rock, and surely there is no sin in offering advantages to those who, exactly like ourselves, are a part of the Glendale Union High School district. He calls attention to the beautiful view which is obtained from the Grey site, and I want to assure him that if he has never been to the Broadway site he will find that it has a most magnificent view in every direction.

There are many additional points in favor of the eastern site, and, if those who are interested in the welfare of our school work here in this valley will visit both of these sites, I have no fear which one they will select.

HORSE OF POOR MAN STOLEN, BUT PLEA GETS SUBSTITUTE

Here's Story That Fits Into Christmas Spirit; and It's Got Fine Moral, Too

By RAY HUMPHREYS
Special to The Glendale Evening News.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 23.—It's the little things that bring out the big things in life—at least so Denver thinks.

A thief, slinking in the night, tried a stable door in the jungles of Globeville, a Denver suburb. The door was locked, the owner was a man of affluence—could afford a padlock. The thief tried the next stable. It was D. A. Barnum's stable—Barnum is 65, sick and almost penniless.

The thief did the little thing.

When Barnum got up next morning to hitch Fanny, his old mare, to his ashcart, Fanny was gone. There were her tracks in the mire, leading away. Barnum was frantic. Without Fanny, faithful partner in his business, he must starve. He combed the jungles in vain; he went to police headquarters and they gave him a promise there, but what will a haughty bluecoat, warm and comfortable, do to recover a skeleton nag for a poor old outcast?

Billy Durkee, a friend in Globeville, spoke up:

"What you need, Barney, is publicity," he advised.

Tells Story to Paper

And so Barnum went to the city editor of a Denver newspaper and told his story graphically. His appearance told more, indeed, than his words. Old, stooped, trembling in sickness, with his shoes wide open at the toes, his knees through his trousers, his old overcoat in shreds—Barnum said his little say with tears.

"I gotta find Fanny," he averred, like a child, "I just gotta—that's all. There is no way out of it. Thieves have robbed me several times in my life but they always left my horse. I guess they finally decided the horse was the only thing left worth taking. It'll be all over with me if I don't find Fanny. Maybe the thief thought about that and maybe he didn't—but I can't eat if I don't get Fanny back!"

Even the heart of the city editor was touched, used as it is to all sorts of woeful tales from the down and outs.

That evening, in words that wrenched the heart, Barnum's story came out in print for the wide world to read.

Two hours later the telephone in the newspaper office rang.

And Then Comes Action

"This is H. Brown Cannon," said a voice, "of the Windsor Farm Dairy—I've just read about that fellow Barnum; I've got a horse here I can spare. I'll give it to him if he calls for it—a man like him deserves to be pitied—any fellow who shows he wants to work and makes an honest living deserves appreciation; I don't know his Fanny—wouldn't if I met her, but I'll replace her for the old man."

The city editor called Barnum.

Barnum's eyes filled again as he heard the news. He fidgeted with his old rusty hat; he stammered his thanks in broken words between coughs.

"It's great," he mumbled, "but I wish it was Fanny back!"

And Denver, looking on, claims that it takes the little things in life to bring out the big things.

OPPOSES CIVIL SERVICE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 23.—A bill to abolish the civil service in the selection and appointment of postmasters of all classes was introduced in the House by Representative Langley, Republican, of Kentucky. Under the bill, all of the executive orders issued by Presidents Harding, Wilson, Taft and Roosevelt requiring examinations for postmasters would be nullified and the present administration would be left free to make appointments to all postoffices without subjecting candidates to civil service examinations.

TWO BANDITS ARE SLAIN

CASPER, Wyo., Dec. 23.—Two unidentified bodies of two bandits are in the morgue here. The men were shot in a fight with officers when intercepted in the robbery of a grocery.

SUBMARINE NEEDED IN WARFARE, SAYS NAVAL EXPERT

Rear Admiral Fullam Asserts Craft Is Weapon Wanted in World Protection

By W. F. FULLAM
Rear Admiral United States Navy
Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 23.—The attention of the world has been focused on the submarine. Mr. Balfour frankly admits that the small coast defense submarine of short cruising radius is a weapon of defense for weak nations against the aggression of the strong upon the sea and he also recognizes that great offensive power of the long range cruising submarine in naval warfare.

It is plain that the great maritime nations, with the exception of the United States, may look with favor upon Mr. Balfour's suggestions; they have reason to do so and many good people of the world over, recalling German "frightfulness," would heartily applaud the complete extinction of the submarine.

But we must avoid precipitate action. The legitimate uses of the submarine must not be denied. The charges against it have been exaggerated. It is not more inhuman than many other weapons upon which no restrictions are placed. International law can control the submarine within limits that the world will recognize as humane—as humane as any weapon that kills or wounds in wars.

Offers Justification

Suppose surface cruisers were to sink merchant ships at sea with or without warning, and leave their crews and passengers in midocean in small boats? Would that be an argument to abolish cruisers? Suppose a brutal combatant should turn machine guns upon prisoners or on an enemy that is surrounded, helpless and crying for quarter? Would that be a reason for abolishing machine guns?

The righteous opposition to cruelty and to the horrors of war should not be so misdirected as to encourage or facilitate aggression. Would not Belgium have been perfectly justified in using poison gas in dense clouds or bombs or any other weapon to resist the brutal invasion by Germany? May not the submarine similarly protect a weak nation from invasion by sea?

Statistics prove that only 12,000 lives were destroyed by submarines in the world war. There was greater loss of life, more prolonged suffering and more "inhumanity" in each of a hundred battles on land than the total of submarines sacrificed by shells, bombs and other agencies in land warfare.

Rights of Neutrals

The inhumane use of submarines can be condemned and outlawed just as other acts of war are controlled. The rights of neutrals upon the sea and the protection of the innocent and the helpless can be secured by extending the limits of territorial waters and by other regulations as binding as those that forbid the killing of prisoners or non-combatants on land.

We hear much of the "freedom of the seas." Is it not desirable? Is it not righteous that the interests of all nations, great and small, weak and strong, shall be made secure upon the same sea? No one nation or combination of nations should be permitted to dominate the oceans and to crush the weak.

If all nations, large and small, are permitted to use submarines, no one naval power can dominate the sea. The greatest navy in the world cannot rule the oceans, and it is not too much to say that no combination of navies can do that. The German U boats fought the navies of the world, and nearly won the world war under conditions most disadvantageous to them.

Says It's Wanted

The more we study this subject the more clearly it appears that the submarine so far from being a weapon to be condemned, is one to be wanted. Great nations fear it; why? Because it stands squarely in the way of aggression by that country. Thus it may prevent war. A nation with a great merchant fleet dependent upon it for her life, may stop and think twice or thrice before she forces war upon a nation, however weak, that is prepared to use submarines in self-defense. We find in Admiral Sims' book ample proof of the power of the submarine in preventing the "command of the seas" by a great surface navy.

In which subject are the people of the world most interested at present—in the command of the sea or in the freedom of the sea? Do you wish to aid the offensive or strengthen the defensive? To aid the weak or to assist the strong? To increase taxation or to reduce it?

GOLD FOR RUSS RELIEF

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 23.—Negotiations are proceedingly satisfactorily between the American Relief administration and the Soviet government for the expending of unpledged gold taken from the old imperial Russian treasury to cover importations of food shipped into Russia from the United States, Secretary of Commerce Hoover announced. Approximately $10,000,000 is now available for this purpose, Hoover said.

Food shipped to Russia will be transported on American ships and railway charges from Russian ports to the famine area will be paid by the Soviet government, it was stated.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

It Is Here Today
See It—Ride In It

Think of a light, economical, moderate priced car that does these things:

That is so fleet and smooth in its response to your will you are never conscious that it is a piece of machinery.

That is so easily operated you can guide it for hours through crowded city traffic or send it across country for a whole day's run without the usual fatigue to driver or passenger.

That is so reliable that attention with an oil can virtually constitutes its sole service requirement.

Such was the aim and such is the achievement—

the New and Improved ESSEX
Get a New and Joyous Thrill in Motoring

Old Essex drivers sense the difference as soon as they take the wheel.

Its speed and acceleration and endurance are known to them. Others may not be so familiar with these Essex qualities. Their surprise and delight will be all the greater.

But old owners, who know the Essex will be charmed at the smoother way the New Improved Essex does the things that give them pride in their cars.

More Economy Than Ever

From the first Essex appealed to men because it does what costlier and larger cars do and at small car cost in fuel, oil and tires.

The New Improved Essex adds gasoline mileage. Oil economy is greater, although old Essex cars averaged around 300 miles to the quart. Its tires often gave 10,000 to 15,000 miles of service. Now cord tires are standard equipment and greatly increase tire mileage.

Old Essex owners hardly understand how reliability could be increased. Many—hundreds in fact—report upwards of 30,000 and 40,000 miles of service, with incredibly small repair bills as judged by the usual requirements of motor car operation.

But the new improved Essex lengthens the period of that service. Simple and inexpensive ways to replace parts as they wear are provided. Thus the tight, squeak-free and rattle-free qualities and lively performance of the Essex when new, may be retained throughout the life of the car. And how long an Essex may be relied upon to serve, needs more years for proof than opportunity has yet provided.

A Better Car for Less Money

All the advantages of the original Essex are retained. The pride of ownership is greater. You can turn it in narrow streets. It finds room in small parking spaces. It is small and light and yet commodious, safe and comfortable.

The New Improved Essex expresses the new day meaning of refinement—of reduced weight—freedom from unnecessary bulk, and the finest mark of motoring luxury.

When Essex is considered, size and price do not mark the standard of car quality or value.

We want you to know that—a ride will prove it.

Mellon Family Benefactors of Pitt University

By WALTER C. MERRITT,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—When the straggling and struggling little Western University of Pennsylvania—now the great University of Pittsburgh—enrolled as students "Andy" W. Mellon, now Secretary of the United States Treasury and one of America's foremost bankers, and his brother, R. B. Mellon, the little school "up on Perrysville hill" did the biggest thing in its history in some ways. At any rate "WUP," as it was familiarly known for three-quarters of a century or more, enlisted in its future behalf two boys who in later years were to become its most powerful financial friends.

"The Mellons" are magic words in this part of the country. When you hear someone say "the Mellons" you know two things—the first is that the speaker is referring to A. W. and R. B. Mellon; in the second instance you know that "the Mellons" are synonymous with millions, not mere dollars and cents.

About a dozen years or so ago "the Mellons" principally, and other influencial alumni incidentally, thought old "WUP" ought to be jazzed up a whole lot. The venerable academic buildings were up on Perrysville Hill, the various other schools—such as law, medicine, dentistry, etc.—were scattered all over the city. The plan was conceived to move the whole university to a new site and start with brand new buildings.

Big Fund Is Raised

A big fund was raised, an extensive site bought in Pittsburgh's great civic center in the Oakland section, and presto! Up went a dozen large and magnificent buildings to house the various schools of the university. Then "WUP" left Perryville and moved to Oakland. It also left its old name behind and became known as the University of Pittsburgh—"Pitt" forshort. Its enrollment quickly jumped from its 600 to 700 students to its present 6,500.

New buildings kept going up to meet its growing needs.

Several years ago the Mellons built the Mellon Institute of Scientific Research. This school delved into scientific mysteries along new lines. It became world famous. It was this school which recently discovered that smoke is far more valuable than the coal it comes from.

Recently leading newspaper men of Pittsburgh attended a dinner and after dinner came the announcement that "the Mellons" had secured the famous "Frick's Fourteen Acres," right in the heart of the city's great civic center and near the university. Those acres cost $1,500,000. They had been held for twenty years by the late H. C. Frick for $2,500,000. The university now has twose historic "Fourteen Acres," thanks to the Mellons.

Plan Large Buildings.

Announcement was made that before spring work will begin on the erection of a number of immense buildings for the university, and these buildings will be devoted to scientific schools. Great and startling scientific discoveries have been made by the Mellon Institute, and this led A. W. Mellon, particularly, to back the new chancellor, John G. Bowman, to the limit in his plans for further development of scientific research.

Chancelor Bowman said that when the new buildings are built and equipped the University of Pittsburgh will have a new plant complete in every detail costing approximately $50,000,000. He also announced that within a very short time there would be at least 10,000 students at "Pitt." It is intended to make Pitt the world's greatest scientific school.

Its scientific researches are not on the theoretical order, but of the most practical nature, intended to benefit industries of all kinds in a big way.

It was "WUP" that turned out such geniuses as Langley, the inventor of the flying machine, and John G. Brashear, world-famous astronomer.

Chancellor Bowman, speaking of the gift and the intended use of the site, said:

Time Comes for Action

"Mr. R. B. Mellon and Secretary A. W. Mellon are interested in the university because it makes for a greater, happier and more prosper-out Pittsburgh district. The conviction of these two men that Pittsburgh must have a university second to none in the world in its power to turn out men and women with the right training and the right character is the reason why the 'Frick Acres' came to the university. Their decision, further, is based upon confidence that the men and women of Pittsburgh, in accordance with their ability, will help create here a university which will be distinguished in its service to the community. Obviously the acquisition of these acres implies great material development for the university in the near future. The time has come for action."

Addition of the Frick Acres gives the University of Pittsburgh one of the largest campuses in the world. The present campus contains forty-three acres, the university recently bought an adjoining tract of eleven acres and now adds the fourteen Frick acres, or a total of sixty-eight acres.

Richard B. Mellon runs the great Mellon National Bank in Pittsburgh, while his brother, Andrew W. Mellon, runs the United States Treasury. Judge Thomas Mellon, father of the two present Mellon boys, graduated from "WUP" in the class of 1837.

Harding Praised by Arthur J. Balfour

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 23.—Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation to the armament conference, paid a stirring tribute to President Harding for having taken the initiative in a plan for the limitation of armament which marked a new page in the history of nations.

The plan will benefit Great Britain, the United States and Japan alike, Mr. Balfour said, and will do so without any sacrifice of security or honor to which the most ardent patriot might object.

NOMINATED REAR ADMIRAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 23.—President Harding has nominated Captain Mark I. Bristol to be rear admiral, U. S. A. Admiral Bristol has been acting as United States high commissioner at Constantinople.

SNOWSTORM BREAKS WIRES

REDDING, Cal., Dec. 23.—The heavy snowstorm in northern California has played havoc with the telephone lines. Trinity county was silent under a heavy blanket of snow which carried down the lines. Lines north of Redding are out.

More and more, at Christmas time, real friends are giving useful gifts.

Warmth! For chilly evenings in the living room. After a long, cold drive. Bathing the youngsters.

Just a few of the many times that a Lawson Odorless Room Heater is a real necessity.

Odorless—absolutely! It gives off a radiant heat like the sun. No open flame to devitalize the atmosphere. Its strong rays penetrate without overheating.

The Lawson is compact. Of pleasing appearance. An economical size for every room in the house. Costs little to operate.

Review your Christmas list. You're sure to find at least one name on it to whom the Lawson Odorless Room Heater will be "just what we needed."

LOANS EAT SALT SURPLUS

SHANGHAI—More than $40,000,000 has been borrowed by the Peking government during the past several months with the salt surplus as security, according to an announcement made by the Kuo Wen News agency. Fifty loans of from several lakhs to several millions make up this huge sum. The money which comes from Chinese and foreign sources—twenty odd banks in all—includes $25,000,000, 16,000,000 yen, 5,000,000 francs, 5,000,000 marks, 12,000,000 lire.

In all these loans the salt surplus has been given as security. The annual income received from Peking from this source is not enough to cover these loans and if this is kept up even next year's surplus and the year after next will not be sufficient.

Some men hurry through life as if leap year widows were after them.

ST. While one man held the crew and passengers at a distance with his revolver, the other went through Edwards' pockets. Three thousand dollars in negotiable government bonds in an inside pocket were overlooked by the holdup men. When the job was finished the men stopped the car and made their escape.

Commission Replies to Germany's Note

PARIS, Dec. 23.—The Inter-Allied Reparations commission has sent a reply to Germany's note announcing she could not pay the January and February indemnity installments. The Commission said the Allies could not consider Germany's situation until Berlin states the exact amount of currency Germany can turn over and the plans that are made for the future. The commission says it is surprised at the generalities and unprecision of the German announcement.

BETTY ROSS CLARK HEADS T. D. & L. PROGRAM TODAY

Noted Film Actress Gives Vaudeville; Rest of Bill Varied; Film Feature

"Him" is the title of the sketch which Betty Ross Clark, the noted film actress is to appear in at the T. D. & L. theatre today and tomorrow as the headliner on the vaudeville road show. Miss Clark has appeared in many film successes on the screen and now she is to be seen on the stage in a clever little domestic playlet which was especially written for her. "Him" has to do with the problems of a young wife who has a husband whose temper is almost unmanageable. How the young wife tames "him" furnishes many laughs.

In quite a different way, the Keystone Trio succeed in making every one who hears them forget their troubles. Harmony singing that is really harmony is offered by this talented trio and their act is sprinkled with many clever bits of comedy.

That versatile boy, Jemery Seaman, offers a number of up-to-date songs and stories and also entertains with some pianologues that are brand new. This young chap comes direct from one of the largest vaudeville circuits where he was always featured.

Laughing Success

Those joy boys, David Harvey and Frank Lewis are favorites in every theatre in which they play. This year these comedians are offering their laughing success, "Who Done That?" The laughs that are found in this act come fast and furious.

Amid Greenwich Village are laid the scenes of Ethel Clayton's latest photoplay, "Wealth," which is to be the feature to be shown in addition to the five acts of vaudeville. This story has to do with a struggling young artist who marries a rich man to end her struggles only to find that his rich family hates her. There is excitement and joy in every scene of this photoplay.

Three Film Stars Are Being Featured in This Picture

Ralph Allan has arranged another big program for the patrons of the T. D. L. theatre. He announces that beginning Sunday (Christmas) he will present the feature attraction "Don't Tell Everything" with Wally Reid, Gloria Swanson and Elliott Dexter. Speaking of this particular picture Mr. Allan said:

"Every man and woman, in Glendale whether married or single, will find something of great personal interest in the new Paramount picture, "Don't Tell Everything," which we will show at this theatre next Sunday. Three great screen notables, Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson and Elliott Dexter, are the featured players. This combination of players insures a picture of the highest merit and one should not fail to see it."

Ordinarily, any picture in which Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson or Elliott Dexter appears is a desirable asset, but when the three are seen in the same production, patrons are sure to find themselves very much to the good. This is the case with "Don't Tell Everything." If this picture fails to score heavily, then there's something wrong with picture fans.

Boy With Freckles, Lots of Them, Here Is Your Opportunity

Who is the most freckled face "kid" in Glendale?

E. W. Kingsbery, 511 South Glendale avenue, says that he wants to know. He promises to pay the aforesaid youngster for the privilege of taking every freckle off in short order.

A freckle, according to Mr. Kingsbery, is a pigment of iron betwten the outer and inner skin. For the past 30 years the Kingsbery family has been marketing a preparation guaranteed to cure the most stubborn case of freckles and do it absolutely harmlessly.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kingsbery, their two children Emera and Hope and Mr. Kingsbery's mother, Mrs. J. S. Kingsbery, al lof Boston, have arrived in Glendale to spend the winter at 511 South Glendale avenue.

COMMENT
THAT'S ALL

Sentiment Transmitted
Telephones Indispensable
History Repeats Itself
Fight For Existence

By Gil A. Cowan

SELDOM is there sentiment expressed in cartoons that make you stop and think.

Yet words appended to one in the Pacific Telephone Magazine for December seem worthy of repetition and comment. "Listen in" for a minute and let us read together:

"Ain't it great when on Christmas morning as you are putting the finishing touches on the turkey and wishing the children were at home to enjoy it—

"And out of sentiment you've hung their stockings up and are saying to yourself how much you would give to hear their voices—

"And the telephone rings and the sweet voice of the operator says long distance is calling, and you can't imagine who; you are all nervous—

"And a familiar voice says 'Merry Christmas, Mother,' and it is your son Walter out in California, and you talk to Walter and to Walt's wife and hear the baby's voice—

"And you're so happy you're just about to cry when the telephone rings again and a voice says, 'Merry Christmas, Mother Dear,' and it's daughter Mabel up in New York—

"And you sit down in the easy chair and have a good laugh, then cry just a bit out of pure joy—

"Oh! Ain't it a great Christmas,

"And, oh, what wonderful children."

Certainly, it calls to mind what a great invention the telephone has proved to be. Yes, it is a great accommodation and service even though some of the underground cables were flooded during the rain and some of the lines placed out of order for the time being.

Bell, inventor of this marvel, has lived to see the day when his once freak contraption has proved the most indispensable adjunct to the commercial life of a city. Improvements are being made daily until now speeches are transmitted from one hall to another; conversation is carried through space without wires; and the system so perfected that a person in New York may speak directly to a person in Los Angeles without leaving the office desk.

Many, many years ago, says the story, Peter Lebec, an old French trapper, was chased up a tree and killed by a bear. This happened in the San Emidio range of mountains, close to the present Ridge Route highway. The tree is still there.

Only yesterday the dismembered body of an unidentified man, who had been attacked by mountain lions, was found on an old trail in the vicinity of Lebec's. It was evident he had fallen from a horse and so injured as to be unable to protect himself.

Then, while our friends from the east are saying, "Wild and wooly," think of Chicago and its human wolves who jump on the running boards of automobiles, engage in gun battles with the police and steal women and children in their efforts to maintain existence.

And in Ardmore, Okla., the pastor of the Presbyterian church has appealed to the government for what he considers law and order. Even the sheriff, he infers, refuses to protect the people. Now, what do you think of that?

Mother and Boy Are Saved From Burning

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 23.—Trapped on the third floor of the burning Rialto hotel, Mrs. Bertha Williams wrapped her 3 year old son in an overcoat and closing her eyes, dropped him from the window. Then she fainted. A fireman standing in the street caught the child in his arms, unhurt. Another fireman then climbed up and carried Mrs. Williams down a scaling ladder.

GLENDALE THEATRE VAUDEVILLE BILL VARIED, NOVEL

Harmony and Comedy Feature Program; Complete Change Is Given Saturday

Novelty, harmony and comedy are combined on the Glendale Theatre vaudeville tonight in proportions which should please the amusement-loving public which finds entertainment here at home equal to that elsewhere.

Fishbeck, Moore and Talbert are a harmonious trio with a musical offering that stars the Bert Levey circuit. The Fostos are other liberators of laughter whose athletic exhibition and clownish efforts will be appreciated.

Christmas for Two

"A Pair of Hose" is the title of a sketch presented by Jessie and Hubert who fail to give their last names. It is "darned" evident they are going to have stockings to hang on the mantel Christmas Eve if they get away with "A Pair of Hose." Bryer and Bryer will "break ice" with songs and instrumental selections while Nichols and Sherwood have a comedy offering that bids fair to beat 'em all.

Strong dramatic situations, magnificent settings and gorgeous gowns are the outstanding features of Elaine Hammerstein's new picture, "The Girl from Nowhere." It is a delightfully human story which would be great attraction alone, but combined with the variety it makes a real holiday bargain.

Look What's Coming

A complete change of vaudeville and pictures will crowd the house both Saturday matinee and evening—Christmas Eve. Christmas Sunday will be the opening day of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," with Mary Pickford.

It looks as though Manager W. A. Howe is going to have some record attendance records smashed, now that the rain is over and the big attractions are here.

'The Greater Love' Is Given Preview on Glendale Screen

"The Greater Love," an R. A. Walsh production, was given a preview at the Glendale theatre last night. Miriam Cooper, the star, and others of the company were present. It is a powerful photodrama, sufficient in plot and humor to make it more than interesting and the work of Miss Cooper is thoroughly captivating. Walsh may add another success to his credit and ship the negative to New York secure in the realization that critics will praise the picture.

Slayer Left Estate by Murdered Woman

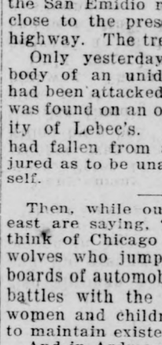
WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 23.—When the will of Mrs. Pearl Williams, slain on October 29, was read here today, it was discovered that Mrs. Louise Conkle, convicted of her murder following revelations of a triangular love affair and under sentence of three years to the penitentiary, was made principal beneficiary.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Conkle were girlhood friends. Mrs. Williams was a widow and a year or so before she was murdered, came into large insurance through the death of her husband on the railroad.

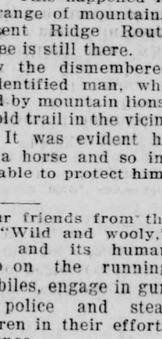
FIVE BANDITS ROB A BANK

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 23.—Flourishing guns, five bandits entered the Steelton bank, South Columbus, held up the treasurer, W. D. Todd, and escaped in an automobile after taking $11,000 from the safe and cash drawer.

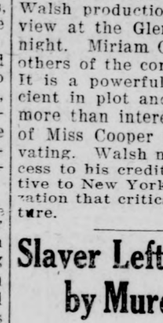
THEY WITNESSED BATTLES AND TURKISH MASSACRES



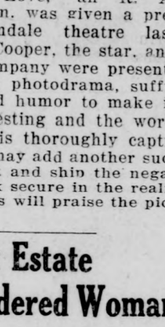
Elise Truran



Irene Eldred



Mabel Farrington



Evelyn Trostle

Four young women, returned American relief workers in Palestine, Turkey and Southern Russia, have issued an earnest appeal for relief funds from philanthropic persons throughout Southern California. The appeal is signed by the Misses Mabel Farrington, Evelyn Trostle, Irene Eldred and Elise Truran, each of whom has, according to relief officials, an enviable and heroic record in orphan relief activities overseas, working often in the midst of battles, deportations and massacres.

In relating their experiences, purposes and hopes, the workers say:

"We helped gather into the orphanages of the Near East Relief (chartered by Congress) the little orphaned children who would soon have perished, and now over 100,000 of them are safe within the gates. But outside still clamor for admission thousands upon thousands of others.

"As America's, as your representatives, we were compelled oh, so often—just for the lack of a little money—to send dear little children away from our orphanages to slow death. Not knowing how great was the need, big-hearted America had not sent us enough money!

"It is for these hopeless little ones, who for lack of food and funds cannot as yet be taken in, that we have returned to rich happy America for a while to ask for help—your help!"

Five dollars a month, or $60 will save the life of a child for one year, according to the workers. Contributions may be made to Near East Relief, 517 Wright & Callender Building, Los Angeles, or, through any local bank.
